ISTANBUL

With its terminal area of 2,300 m<sup>2</sup>, the General Aviation Terminal is located at Apron "V" at the northwest of Ataturk Airport. As a privileged gate from Istanbul to the world, the terminal provides many VIP guests with a wide range of services every year. Business jets with an average capacity of 6-20 seats flying with "Air Taxi Operation" and "General Aviation" licenses receive services from this terminal.

In this terminal, security, passport and customs procedures are carried out in the fastest manner to offer a much less burdensome, comfortable airport experience, and to save time for our guests.

Also in the terminal, which has two separate lounges for domestic and international lines, our guests are welcomed in designated halls where food and beverages are served by experienced service personnel. Our guests may also use the private meeting room designed for business meetings if they wish. In this room, they can catch up on breaking news on TV or continue working using the Wi-Fi.

The General Aviation Terminal, which hosts many well-known figures from economy, business, culture, the arts and sports coming to Turkey, is the most exclusive gate in Istanbul, opening to the rest of the world.

ANKARA

There are two lounges allocated for domestic and international flights at the General Aviation Terminal located at Apron No. 5 of the designated area for Hangars of the Esenboğa Airport. Airline companies which offer business jet flights with "General Aviation" or "Air Taxi" licenses may conduct fast and secure flights using the General Aviation Terminal.

In the terminal passengers are offered boutique services, passing through security, passport and customs procedures without delay. Thanks to these privileges, our guests can save time during their journey to their destinations.

Welcomed in tranquil, comfortable and high-quality lounges away from all the hustle and bustle of the airport, our guests have access to catering service, catch up on breaking news on TV and continue working by using the Wi-Fi in these lounges prior to their flights.

The General Aviation Terminal, which hosts many well-known figures from economy, business, culture, the arts and sports coming to Turkey, is the most exclusive gate in Ankara, opening to the rest of the world.

FOR US, EVEN THE SKY
IS NOT THE LIMIT.

IZMIR

The General Aviation Hall at Izmir Adnan Menderes Airport - the gateway of Izmir opening to the world - welcomes business jet passengers as well as airline company travelers on request providing boutique service with a focus on speed, security, and comfort.

Our special guests who wish to use the General Aviation Hall are greeted in front of their aircrafts or at the terminal entrances by airport officials - depending on their destinations or departure points - and escorted to the hall. Security, passport, and customs procedures are carried out without delay, which allows our distinguished passengers to save time during their journeys.

Thanks to the facilities we offer, passengers who are racing against time, and therefore wishing to travel stress-free, have access to catering services, are able to catch up on breaking news on TV and continue working using the Wi-Fi in these lounges prior to their flights.

BODRUM

The General Aviation Terminal is situated on a 1,234 square meter site to the east of Milas Bodrum Airport International Terminal. Popular with global celebrities visiting Bodrum and its vicinity, particularly for summer holidays, Bodrum Terminal is one of our special gateways to the historical and natural attractions of the Aegean Region. Offering all kinds of comfort, the Domestic Terminal has one departures/arrivals hall, while the International Terminal includes halls each reserved for arrivals, departures, and waiting as used by teams or people welcoming or seeing off their loved ones, making for four separate halls in total.

Security, customs and passport procedures can be performed without long queues at the General Aviation Terminal.

As the prominent feature of the terminal, these services will help passengers to save time while traveling either by private jet or with airlines. Our guests are welcome to enjoy comfort and quality in our specially designed quiet lounges, escaping crowds and noise, before boarding at the terminal. Passengers can continue working at our lounges thanks to Wi-Fi Internet access available across the terminal, watch the news on TV, or enjoy complimentary food and drinks served by our experienced staff.

As the portal to Bodrum for prominent figures in economy, business, culture and sports, the General Aviation Hall is Bodrum's most exclusive gateway to the world.
